Grand Raffle

tonight for turkeys, ducks, geese and oysters at the Last Turn saloon. Everybody invited.

Little Boy Wantonly Killed.

In front of the crates stood little Freddie King, who was watching the manipulations of the man with the wheel and the paddles. When he heard the shots he turned about. As he did so the robbers shot at Hickman, but aimed low and the bullet entered the body of the little child. With a wild cry he started for the side door and fell to the walk as soon as he passed through.

The highwaymen continued shooting and one shot passed near Edward Mingo, the proprietor of the place, and as Frank Mingo, a relative of the manager, descended the stairs he, too, was the target of the thugs. They fired at him but missed him. Then the men in the saloon were lined up and were searched by the outlaws, who seared a little over $20.

Then the murderers departed and entered two vehicles, which had been held for them by a woman, who had posted herself nearby.

From all reports the men who did the shooting had two vehicles in waiting and started for the city, but changed their minds and made their way to the east for the purpose of taking the Soo freight train for the east.

Their tracks were followed for some distance, but they doubled on their trail.

BLOODY PISTOL IN EVIDENCE.

Dramatic Conclusion of Hearing in Weber Murder Case.

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 23.—The preliminary examination of Adolph Weber practically ended during the afternoon with the sensation of the whole trial—the dramatic presentation in court of the pistol with which the dead was evidently committed. It was found on one of the sills under a barn on the Weber place. The barn stands on the side hill near the house and on the underside a person can creep under it.

The weapon is a 32-caliber pistol. When examined four chambers were found empty and one loaded. The pistol was smurred with blood and on one of the stains some hair is stuck fast as if it might be the weapon with which the boy was beaten. Half way between the cylinder and muzzle are to be plainly seen the imprint of two bloody fingers.

SHOT BANK CASHIER.

Nebraska Robber Captured After a Lively Chase.

Norfolk, Neb., Nov. 23.—William Holden, a farmhand, during the noon hour, entered the Platte Valley bank, demanded the bank's cash and on the refusal of Cashier Barney Schroeder to surrender it, shot the latter in the breast, inflicting a serious, but not fatal wound. He made his escape in a buggy without securing any money. Holden was pursued and later captured by Sheriff Carrig, after the robber had fled at his pursuers.

TAKEN TO LOUISVILLE.

Three Negroes Whom Lexington Mob Wanted to Lynch.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 23.—Garfield Smith and John and Ed Taylor, colored, were Tuesday taken under heavy guard to Yarnallton Station, seven miles from the city, and there put aboard a Chesapeake and Ohio train for Louisville, where they will be kept until the authorities believe it safe for them to appear for trial here.

Rev. R. Kirkwood has started a fund to buy a home for the widow and ten orphans of the murdered white man and an effort to raise a large sum will be made. The finding of six negroes with shotguns on the outskirts of the city during the day shows there is an ugly feeling among a certain element of the negroes which may lead to clashes with whites. However, negro preachers and the better class are doing their utmost to keep down the race feeling, deplored the acts of the murderers and counseled deference to the whites.

Fired on From Ambush.

Duquoin, Ill., Nov. 23.—Several shots were fired into the barricade around the mines at Zeigler during the day by persons concealed in the underbrush. There was considerable excitement but no one was injured and a thorough search failed to discover the persons who did the shooting.

Minneapolis, Nov. 23.—Nine-year-old Freddie King was killed and Edward J. Mingo probably fatally shot by masked men who held up the saloon at Columbia Heights, just outside the limits of Minneapolis and in Anoka county last night.

The affair occurred about 9 o'clock and at midnight the body of the boy lay on a table awaiting the arrival of the coroner of Anoka county. The murder was a most cold-blooded one. Three men and one woman were involved and the prospects of their arrest are excellent.

Last night there was a turkey raffle at Edward Mingo's saloon, in Anoka county, just across the line from Hennepin county.

This raffle was managed by M. E. Hickman and Henry Phol, a former Minneapolis policeman and at one time the proprietor of the saloon.

Shortly before 9 o'clock three masked men entered the place and began shooting. The first shot was directed at Edward J. Mingo, the bartender, who was behind the counter, and he received a shot in the left side of the face. The bullet passed through his mouth and lodged in the vicinity of the base of the brain.

Then the robbers opened fire on Hickman, who was behind several crates of turkeys and who was in charge of the raffle.

DEFENDANT NEARLY FAINTS.

Skeleton on Exhibition at Trial of Nan Patterson.

New York, Nov. 23.—Several unusual features were presented in the supreme court during the day in the trial of Nan Patterson for the alleged murder of Caesar Young. Frederick D. Michaels, the cabman, described the cab in which Young met his death. He said that he heard the sound of a pistol shot and that Miss Patterson opened the trap a moment later and told him to drive to a drug store, but that he did not look into the cab. He then told what occurred up to the time when he reached the hospital where Young's body was taken.

During the day a skeleton and two pieces of skin from Young's second finger were produced in court by the prosecution. The skeleton was shown in order that the course of the bullet that killed Young might be traced. The state, it is understood, expects to use the pieces of skin in refuting the suicide theory.

The introduction of these exhibits caused a sensation in the courtroom and for a time Miss Patterson seemed on the verge of collapse.

Several policemen were put on the witness stand to testify regarding incidents that followed the arrest of Miss Patterson, and Police Captain Sweeney identified the revolver which he said was found in Young's pocket after the shooting.

Coroner's Physician O'Hanlon, who performed the autopsy, was called and said the cause of death was hemorrhage of the left lung resulting from a bullet wound. By means of the skeleton he then showed the direction taken by the bullet.

STILL REMAINS A MYSTERY.

Chicago Automobile Murder Is Not Yet Solved.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—No clews developed during the day in the murder case of Chauffeur Bate, who was killed near Lemont, Ill., three days ago. The officers are still seeking diligently for "Mr. Dove," the man who fired the automobile, but apparently have not succeeded in gaining any knowledge of his whereabouts. The case has settled down to a man hunt with few facts upon which the search can be directed.

John Hennes, the young man who declared that he saw the automobile and then asserted that he had not seen it, came to the front again with story number three. He now says that he did see the automobile, that it passed him as he was walking along the road and that it contained three people. After it had passed him by about a quarter of a mile he heard two shots, but paid no attention to them until the next morning when he heard of the murder. This story, Hennes says, is the truth. He declared that the reason he declared his first story false, was that he was walking with a young woman whose parents had objected to his being with her, and he did not wish to create any trouble for her.

WOMAN FIRES ON MOB.

Wounded Herself She Hits Ten Members of the Crowd.

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 23.—The community across the Big Sandy river from Yorkville was the scene of a fatal raid during the night between the family of John Wallace and the Curry brothers. The latter demanded liquor in Wallace's saloon. They were refused. It is said that they were already intoxicated. When the Curry brothers began shooting Wallace closed his saloon. Later the Curry brothers with others went to Wallace's home, demanding that Wallace come out. When Mrs. Wallace stated that her husband was not at home the crowd broke in the windows. Mrs. Wallace then fired into the crowd, fatally wounding Thomas Curry.

Mrs. Wallace was shot twice, once in the leg and the other time in the shoulder. She rode to Louis, Ky., where she gave the alarm and the sheriff and deputies left for the scene of trouble. Wallace escaped to Yorkville. All of his live stock was killed by the mob. It is estimated that about 500 shots were exchanged and that ten members of the mob were badly injured.

Nebraska Robber Captured After a Lively Chase.

Norfolk, Neb., Nov. 23.—William Holden, a farmhand, during the noon hour, entered the Platte Valley bank, demanded the bank's cash and on the refusal of Cashier Barney Schroeder to surrender it, shot the latter in the breast, inflicting a serious, but not fatal wound. Mukden, Nov. 23.—Both armies occupy such strong fortified positions that neither appears inclined to attack unless possessing a preponderance of numbers enabling a flanking movement. The Japanese probably have more available troops. Their superior mobility was lately shown by the activity of their center. Both armies seem to receive equal reinforcements during the same space of time.

TURNING MOVEMENT FAILS.

Russians Disperse a Small Force of the Japanese.

Zandagau, Manchuria, Nov. 23.—The Japanese lost 500 men in the attack of Nov. 17 and Nov. 18 and were evidently disheartened. When they renewed the attack Nov. 19 the Japanese sent out several battalions from Double Humped hill, but their movements lacked decision. The Russians opened fire from Poutiloff (Lone Tree) hill and neighboring eminences. Shells burst in the midst of the advancing Japanese columns and quickly checked them. The Japanese also tried a turning operation at Chamlindza, but there also they were dispersed.

There was a slight encounter Nov. 20. Russian scouts penetrated a short distance into the Japanese lines, but without much result.

GARRISON IN GOOD SPIRITS.

Port Arthur Can Hold Out Until End of January.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—The Mukden correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger sends the following:

"First Lieutenant Schupkoff, who has just arrived from Port Arthur, reports that the Russians have laid out three lines of defenses, which the Japanese must capture before they can reach the city, after which the Russians can retire to the coast forts, which are the strongest of all. The garrison, which comprises more than 40,000 men, is in good spirits. Lieutenant Schupkoff believes that the fortress can hold out at least until the end of January."

THIRD RUSSIAN SQUADRON.

More Warships May Be Sent to Fight the Japanese.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 23.—A naval correspondent of the Novoy Vremya urges the formation of a third squadron for service in the far East and points out that the Slava, a modern battleship, is now available at Cronstadt, to which, he says, could shortly be added two battleships and two cruisers of a somewhat older type and fifteen torpedo boats, making in itself a formidable flotilla. The writer suggests incidentally that there is still a possibility of getting out the Black sea fleet, which added to the above squadron, would wholly overwhelm the remnant of Japan's sea power.

TOOK DUCATS AND SKIPPED

Mrs. C. McIntosh is Said to Have Jumped Her Job and Left
Unceremoniously

TRUNK CHECKED TO MINNEAPOLIS

Husband Left in Her Keeping
Money Collected by Shop Men for a Poor Family.

Brainerd was furnished with another sensation last night and the police, assisted by C. McIntosh, were busy all night looking for Mrs. C. McIntosh, the latter's wife, who unceremoniously left her home on Seventh street south yesterday shortly after noon and is supposed to have gone to Minneapolis.

The fact that the woman went off on a trip all by herself did not cut so much figure with her husband, but he felt somewhat put out that she should take with her something like $80 which was not his money nor hers, but which had been collected by the shop men for a poor family and entrusted to his care. The shop men had collected about $120 and Mr. McIntosh had paid over to the poor family about $40 of the money. He went home yesterday at noon for his dinner and everything was as usual about the place. He ate his dinner and started back to the shop.

When he got home last night his wife was gone and everything she had she had packed in a trunk and taken it with her. It was learned at the depot that she got the trunk checked to Minneapolis just as the train was pulling out. The trunk did not go, but she is supposed to have boarded the train and gone to Staples.

Last night the husband wanted a warrant for the woman's arrest, but City Clerk Low did not feel disposed to give it to him as he was not clear on the point that she had committed a crime, but thought it was simply a breach of trust.

County Attorney Crowell left for Staples on the midnight train with the hopes that he might be able to locate the woman.

Later—Sheriff Erickson returned from Minneapolis this afternoon with Mrs. McIntosh in custody. He met Mr. Crowell at Staples last night and was informed of the movements of the lady and went direct to Minneapolis and when she called for her trunk there this morning she was arrested. No hearing has been had in the matter yet.

NINE-YEAR-OLD BOY DEAD AND

VILLAINS LINE UP PATRONS OF
THE PLACE AND TAKE ALL THEIR MONEY.

Minneapolis, Nov. 23.—Nine-year-old Freddie King was killed and Edward J. Mingo probably fatally shot by masked men who held up the saloon at Columbia Heights, just outside the limits of Minneapolis and in Anoka county last night.

The affair occurred about 9 o'clock and at midnight the body of the little boy lay on a table awaiting the arrival of the coroner of Anoka county. The murder was a most cold-blooded one. Three men and one woman were involved and the prospects of their arrest are excellent.

Last night there was a turkey raffle at Edward Mingo's saloon, in Anoka county, just across the line from Hennepin county.

This raffle was managed by M. E. Hickman and Henry Phol, a former Minneapolis policeman and at one time the proprietor of the saloon.

Shortly before 9 o'clock three masked men entered the place and began shooting. The first shot was directed at Edward J. Mingo, the bartender, who was behind the counter, and he received a shot in the left side of the face. The bullet passed through his mouth and lodged in the vicinity of the base of the brain.

Then the robbers opened fire on Hickman, who was behind several crates of turkeys and who was in charge of the raffle.

Little Boy Wantonly Killed.

In front of the crates stood little Freddie King, who was watching the manipulations of the man with the wheel and the paddles. When he heard the shots he turned about. As he did so the robbers shot at Hickman, but aimed low and the bullet entered the body of the little child. With a wild cry he started for the side door and fell to the walk as soon as he passed through.

The highwaymen continued shooting and one shot passed near Edward Mingo, the proprietor of the place, and as Frank Mingo, a relative of the manager, descended the stairs he, too, was the target of the thugs. They fired at him but missed him. Then the men in the saloon were lined up and were searched by the outlaws, who secured a little over $20.

Then the murderers departed and entered two vehicles, which had been held for them by a woman, who had posted herself nearby.

From all reports the men who did the shooting had two vehicles in waiting and started for the city, but changed their minds and made their way to the east for the purpose of taking the Soo freight train for the east.

Their tracks were followed for some distance, but they doubled on their trail.

BLOODY PISTOL IN EVIDENCE.

Dramatic Conclusion of Hearing in Weber Murder Case.

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 23.—The preliminary examination of Adolf Weber practically ended during the afternoon with the sensation of the whole trial—the dramatic presentation in court of the pistol with which the deed was evidently committed.

It was found on one of the silts under a barn on the Weber place. The barn stands on the side hill near the house and on the underside a person can creep under it.

The weapon is a 32-caliber pistol. When examined four chambers were found empty and one loaded. The pistol was smurred with blood and on one of the stains some hair is stuck fast as if it might be the weapon with which the boy was beaten. Half way between the cylinder and muzzle are to be plainly seen the imprint of two bloody fingers.

Fired on From Ambush.

Duquoin, Ill., Nov. 23.—Several shots were fired into the barricade around the mines at Zeigler during the day by persons concealed in the underbrush. There was considerable excitement but no one was injured and a thorough search failed to discover the persons who did the shooting.

Urge Treaty With America.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 23.—The Bourse Gazette urges the negotiation of a commercial treaty with the United States on the ground that the completion of the Panama canal will greatly increase trade between the United States and Russia.

DEFENDANT NEARLY FAINTS.

Skeleton on exhibition at Trial of Nan Patterson.

New York, Nov. 23.—Several unusual features were presented in the supreme court during the day in the trial of Nan Patterson for the alleged murder of Caesar Young. Frederick D. Michaels, the cabman, described the cab in which Young met his death. He said that he heard the sound of a pistol shot and that Miss Patterson opened the trap a moment later and told him to drive to a drug store, but that he did not look into the cab. He then told what occurred up to the time when he reached the hospital where Young's body was taken.

During the day a skeleton and two pieces of skin from Young's second finger were produced in court by the prosecution. The skeleton was shown in order that the course of the bullet that killed Young might be traced. The state, it is understood, expects to use the pieces of skin in refuting the suicide theory.

The introduction of these exhibits caused a sensation in the courtroom and for a time Miss Patterson seemed on the verge of collapse.

Several policemen were put on the witness stand to testify regarding incidents that followed the arrest of Miss Patterson, and Police Captain Sweeney identified the revolver which he said was found in Young's pocket after the shooting.

Coroner's Physician O'Hanlon, who performed the autopsy, was called and said the cause of death was hemorrhage of the left lung resulting from a bullet wound. By means of the skeleton he then showed the direction taken by the bullet.

STILL REMAINS A MYSTERY.

Chicago Automobile Murder Is Not Yet Solved.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—No clews developed during the day in the murder case of Chauffeur Bate, who was killed near Lemont, Ill., three days ago. The officers are still seeking diligently for "Mr. Dove," the man who hired the automobile, but apparently have not succeeded in gaining any knowledge of his whereabouts. The case has settled down to a man hunt with few facts upon which the search can be directed.

John Hennes, the young man who declared that he saw the automobile and then asserted that he had not seen it, came to the front again with story number three. He now says that he did see the automobile, that it passed him as he was walking along the road and that it contained three people. After it had passed him by about a quarter of a mile he heard two shots, but paid no attention to them until the next morning when he heard of the murder. This story, Hennes says, is the truth. He declared that the reason he declared his first story false, was that he was walking with a young woman whose parents had objected to his being with her, and he did not wish to create any trouble for her.

WOMAN FIRES ON MOB.

Wounded Herself She Hits Ten Members of the Crowd.

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 23.—The community across the Big Sandy river from Yorkville was the scene of a fatal feud during the night between the family of John Wallace and the Curry brothers. The latter demanded liquor in Wallace's saloon. They were refused. It is said they were already intoxicated. When the Curry brothers began shooting Wallace closed his saloon. Later the Curry brothers with others went to Wallace's home, demanding that Wallace come out. When Mrs. Wallace stated that her husband was not at home the crowd broke in the windows. Mrs. Wallace then fired into the crowd, fatally wounding Thomas Curry.

Mrs. Wallace was shot twice, once in the leg and the other time in the shoulder. She rode to Louis, Ky., where she gave the alarm and the sheriff and deputies left for the scene of trouble. Wallace escaped to Yorkville. All of his live stock was killed by the mob. It is estimated that about 500 shots were exchanged and that ten members of the mob were badly injured.

SHOT BANK CASHIER.

Nebraska Robber Captured After a Lively Chase.

Norfolk, Neb., Nov. 23.—William Holden, a farmhand, during the noon hour, entered the Platte Valley bank, demanded the bank's cash and on the refusal of Cashier Barney Schroeder to surrender it, shot the latter in the breast, inflicting a serious, but not fatal wound. He made his escape in a buggy without securing any money. Holden was pursued and later captured by Sheriff Carrig, after the robber had fired at his pursuers.

TAKEN TO LOUISVILLE.

Three Negroes Whom Lexington Mob Wanted to Lynch.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 23.—Garfield Smith and John and Ed Taylor, colored, were Tuesday taken under heavy guard to Yarnallton Station, seven miles from the city, and there put aboard a Chesapeake and Ohio train for Louisville, where they will be kept until the authorities believe it safe for them to appear for trial here.

Rev. R. Kirkwood has started a fund to buy a home for the widow and ten orphans of the murdered white man and an effort to raise a large sum will be made. The finding of six negroes with shotguns on the outskirts of the city during the day shows there is an ugly feeling among a certain element of the negroes which may lead to clashes with whites. However, negro preachers and the better class are doing their utmost to keep down the race feeling, deplored the acts of the murderers and counselling deference to the whites.

Child Burns to Death.

Nezink, Neb., Nov. 23.—Three children of Thomas Moran, living near Wayne, Neb., set fire to a barn in which they were at play. One was burned to death and the other two are in a serious condition.

H. F. Michael Co's Daily Store News.

Here At Last !!!

We have the newest of the new to show you on our art needlework day—Friday. We have had a hard time getting them but we feel that we are well repaid for our efforts. We refer to our souvenir pillows of Brainerd. They are beautiful, indeed, and have come just in time to solve that perplexing question of "what to make for a Christmas gift."

The design is of the new library and bears the words "Souvenir—Brainerd." It is tastefully tinted on the best trilby ticking and can be worked either solid or outline; either way it will make a very handsome pillow.

If you want to send a gift to an out of town friend this will be most appropriate. Our price for the pillow with the back is but 65c.

Free Instruction Classes—Friday

We would urge you to take advantage of our free instruction classes at once as we shall discontinue this feature soon. Our offer is to give you free instructions upon any piece of art needlework you may purchase at our store. If you are desirous of learning embroidery, why not begin by embroidering one of the new souvenir pillows?

Battenberg Patterns Free We again offer you the choice of any battenberg pattern in our store if you purchase sufficient materials to complete it. Then, too, we will give free instruction upon this work. This offer is for Friday.

NEITHER OF THE GREAT ARMIES

APPEARS INCLINED TO RE-OPEN THE CONFLICT.

IAPS HAVE THE MOST MEN

RUSSIAN FORCES UNABLE TO MOVE AS RAPIDLY AS THE MIKADO'S TROOPS.

Mukden, Nov. 23.—Both armies occupy such strong fortified positions that neither appears inclined to attack unless possessing a preponderance of numbers enabling a flanking movement. The Japanese probably have more available troops. Their superior mobility was lately shown by the activity of their center. Both armies seem to receive equal reinforcements during the same space of time.

TURNING MOVEMENT FAILS.

Russians Disperse a Small Force of the Japanese.

Zandagaw, Manchuria, Nov. 23.—The Japanese lost 500 men in the attack of Nov. 17 and Nov. 18 and were evidently disheartened. When they renewed the attack Nov. 19 the Japanese sent out several battalions from Double Humped hill, but their movements lacked decision. The Russians opened fire from Poutloff (Lone Tree) hill and neighboring eminences. Shells burst in the midst of the advancing Japanese columns and quickly checked them. The Japanese also tried a turning operation at Chanchingza but there also they were dispersed.

There was a slight encounter Nov. 20. Russian scouts penetrated a short distance into the Japanese lines, but without much result.

GARRISON IN GOOD SPIRITS.

Port Arthur Can Hold Out Until End of January.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—The Mukden correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger sends the following:

"First Lieutenant Schupkoff, who has just arrived from Port Arthur, reports that the Russians have laid out three lines of defenses, which the Japanese must capture before they can reach the city, after which the Russians can retire to the coast forts, which are the strongest of all. The garrison, which comprises more than 40,000 men, is in good spirits. Lieutenant Schupkoff believes that the fortress can hold out at least until the end of January."

THIRD RUSSIAN SQUADRON.

More Warships May Be Sent to Fight the Japanese.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 23.—A naval correspondent of the Novoye Vremya urges the formation of a third squadron for service in the far East and points out that the Slava, a modern battleship, is now available at Kronstadt, to which he says, could shortly be added two battleships and two cruisers of a somewhat older type and fifteen torpedo boats, making it itself a formidable flotilla. The writer suggests incidentally that there is still a possibility of getting out the Black sea fleet, which added to the above squadron, would wholly overwhelm the remnant of Japan's sea power.

Japan Buying Welsh Coal.

London, Nov. 23.—Japan is buying Welsh coal at Cardiff. One purchase of 10,000 tons is recorded and other orders are reported to have been placed. The steamer King Robert, has been chartered at Cardiff for Japanese account.

Emperor Inspects Guns.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 23.—The emperor and empress at Tsarskoe Selo inspected two batteries of quick firing guns attached to the Second and Sixth East Siberian rifles, which will start in a few days for the far East.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"JOSHUA SIMPKINS" TOMORROW.

"Joshua Simpkins," a rural comedy drama which has been presented for several seasons on the road, will play an engagement in this city tomorrow, Thanksgiving, matinee and night. It is a comedy drama of merit, in addition to which several pleasing specialties are introduced. An orchestra will discourse incidental music. Seats are now selling at H. P. Dunn & Co.'s. They are 75c, 50c and 25c for the night performance. The matinee will be open for the matinee at 2 o'clock and the curtain will go up at 2:30 o'clock. In the evening the curtain will rise at the usual hour.

There is liable to be a recount of the votes in the Seventh judicial district, the unofficial returns from the ten counties giving Judge Baxter a plurality of but 117 votes over his opponent, Mr. Mason, the republican nominee. It is predicted that the official count will materially decrease this lead. In view of the exceedingly close vote it is understood that the friends of the defeated candidate will ask a recount.

A. J. HALSTED retires from the office of mayor of the city of Brainerd with the good will of the people that he has so faithfully served during the three terms he has been honored with the office. He has given freely of his time and ability to the city's interest during his tenure of office without expectation of reward and retires with the acknowledgement that he has at all times acted for the best interest of the greatest number.

The official vote of Minnesota is now complete and the returns show that President Roosevelt's plurality reached the astonishing figure of 158,192, the vote being Roosevelt 214,848, Parker 56,656. For governor Johnson received 147,332 and Dunn 139,661, Johnson's plurality being 7,671. Dunn carried three congressional districts, the First, Seventh and Eighth, forty-three out of the eighty-three counties casting a majority of votes for him. Outside of Hennepin county Dunn's plurality in the state was 611, and outside of Hennepin and Ramsey counties he led the democratic nominee by 1,725. This, the Sixth district, gave Johnson a plurality of 3,042, while Dunn carried his own district, the Eighth, by 5,470.

The reins of the city government were turned over to new hands last night, the new city council holding their first meeting. Alderman C. D. Johnson of the Second ward was honored by being elected the presiding officer, the honor of vice president falling to Alderman A. M. Opsahl, of the Fifth ward. W. H. Mantor will have charge of the legal business of the city during the next two years, and E. H. Simmons was placed at the head of the police force. F. E. Low and H. M. Woolman were re-elected to their respective positions of city clerk and city surveyor. That the selections made were wise ones goes without saying and the people of Brainerd can expect wise and conservative government at their hands. There is much important business to come before the council during the next two years in the matter of sewerage, water works, pavement and other improvements incident to a city of the importance of ours that will require good business judgment and the tax payers of the city will look to their legislative body to see that their interests are protected and THE DISPATCH predicts that their expectations will be fulfilled. Mayor O'Brien starts his term of office with the good will of the entire community and with the council to back him up in his desire to give the city a business administration he cannot fail in his aim.

STOVE

SALE

This will be the First Genuine Great Stove Sale ever held in Brainerd; the particular difference between this sale and the many other sales going on at the present time, is that we do not oblige you to pay spot cash to get the benefit of it.

We have fifty-one different kinds of Heaters and six varieties of Ranges and we have to keep about five hundred stoves on hand to back up these samples, and our store is so good Heater or Range and pay for it at your convenience than to keep them in our warehouse where they are doing no one any good.

It is rather an unusual proceeding to offer goods on the installment plan at a closing out sale, therefore we have explained our reasons as above, to convince you that we mean business.

Come in and see what Bargains we have to offer is all we ask.

CATTLE BUTCHERS AT CHICAGO

STOCK YARDS VOTE TO STOP

WORK WHEN ORDERED.

MEN ALLEGED DISCRIMINATION

AGREEMENT TO CEASE LABOR

REACHED BY A UNANIMOUS

BALLOT OF UNION.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Cattle butchers employed in the large plants at the stock yards held a mass meeting last night and decided to go on strike when called upon to do so by the officials of their union. The cattle butchers employed by the Hammond Packing company struck Monday because of alleged discrimination against union men. According to the officials of the union the same conditions prevail at the other plants and the meeting last night was called for the purpose of ascertaining the sentiment of the men should it be found necessary, in the opinion of the union leaders, to resort to a general walkout. Although the butchers in the recent strike at the stock yards surrendered unconditionally the vote to strike, if necessary, was unanimous.

SEVERAL UNDER ARREST.

Murder Charged Against Striking Union Molders.

Cincinnati, Nov. 23.—Charged with various degrees of lawlessness in connection with the strike of union molders of Cincinnati, Covington and Newport, Ky., that has been in progress for months, a half dozen men are under arrest and others are under surveillance, so that a dozen or more other arrests are expected at any time. The most important warrant issued was for Joseph F. Valentine, president of the Iron Molders' union of North America, but as he is out of the city the service could not be held on him. The headquarters of the Iron Molders' union are in this city and it is claimed that President Valentine has been directing the strike that has been in progress in Cincinnati, Covington and Newport for several months. During that time there have been disturbances at different factories and on the streets of the three cities. On Oct. 7 Samuel Weakley, a nonunion molder, was killed and Frank Brown, who accompanied Weakley, narrowly escaped from strikers who assaulted them. The past few days the situation became more threatening around the foundries and attempts were made Monday night to blow up one of them with dynamite, one in this city and the other in Newport, Ky. No arrests have been made in Newport, although the situation is more threatening there than at any other locality. The arrest of father and son in this city, charged with dynamiting the Eureka foundry and other alleged confessions implicating others promise sensational developments.

While there is much excitement in the foundry districts there were no reports up to a late hour of disturbances. In addition to the strong guards that have been maintained for months at these places the police of the three cities assisted the guards.

SMOOTH TO HOLD SEAT.

Senate Committee on Elections Will So Recommend.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Despite appeals made by women's clubs, by the W. C. T. U. and religious bodies and church societies, it is the present intention of the senate committee on privileges and elections to recommend to the senate that Rep. Smoot be allowed to retain his seat in the senate. It is not the plan of the committee to re-open the case when the senate conveys next month.

Some days ago Chairman Burrows notified the attorneys on both sides of this fact and informed them that if they desired that any more testimony should be submitted, it should be handed to the committee in the shape of depositions. This practically decides the matter.

SIX DEMOCRATS ARRESTED.

Further Developments in Colorado Election Troubles.

Denver, Nov. 23.—A special officer of the supreme court was started out during the day with ten additional warrants for persons charged with violating the order of the court appointing special watchers on election day and according them the same privileges guaranteed to regular watchers and the election laws. Six arrests of local Democratic leaders were made, their names being William G. Groome of the city detective force, James Mullins, a clerk in the treasurer's office; James Harris, a district court constable; William Bergman and Mart Veyany. They were all released under bonds of $1,000 each.

JOHN ALLEN DEAD.

Discoverer of Gold in Montana Dies at Helena.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 23.—John Allen, one of the men whose discovery of gold in what is now Montana City, turned the tide of prospectors in this country, is dead in Helena, where he had been under treatment since last September for cancer. Allen came to Last Chance in 1864. He made his home in the vicinity of Marysville and discovered and named Pigeon Gulch.

TWO VESSELS MISSING.

Believed to Have Foundered in Recent Severe Storm.

St. Louis, Nov. 23.—After remaining in the air for forty-five minutes, only for a brief period of which it was prodded by its own power, the "Montana Meteor," the airship designed and constructed by Thomas Benbow of Columbus, Mont., was brought safely to the ground in an open field three miles southwest of the world's fair aerodrome.

The airship was navigated by the inventor, who stated to a representative of the Associated Press after the flight that he considered it very successful in the light of the accident that happened to his machinery. A leak in the gasoline tank allowed all the fluid to escape and rendered his motor useless shortly after he had started the flight.

SUDDEN SLASH IN RATES.

Burlington Cuts Chicago-St. Paul Figures to $6.

St. Johns, N. F., Nov. 23.—The steamer Stord, coal laden, from Sydney, C. B., for St. Johns, with a crew of fourteen men, is now seven days out, whereas the passage usually occupies only forty-eight hours. It is feared that the steamer foundered in the severe gale which swept the south coast of this island on Saturday and Sunday.

The schooner Orpheus, fish laden, from Labrador for St. Johns with a crew of ten men, it is feared, has met the same fate.

OVERWHELMINGLY DEFEATED.

Federation of Labor Disposes of Socialist Resolutions.

San Francisco, Nov. 23.—Disputes occupied most of the time of the delegates to the American Federation of Labor in the day's session. There was a ripple of Monday's exciting proceedings when, upon the opening of the session, two resolutions, introduced by Delegate Victor Berger, leader of the socialists, were presented for consideration. One of these provides for abolition of the militia as it now exists in the United States and the substitution of the Swiss system. The convention overwhelmingly defeated the measure.

The second socialist resolution asked the Federation to go on record as being in favor of petitioning congress to pass a bill providing for an old age pension for workingmen. This measure was also defeated.

A great number of resolutions regarding trade jurisdiction were presented. In but a few instances were agreements reached.

The most bitter fight was waged over the differences between the boilermakers and the structural ironworkers. The matter was finally compromised. A score of other disputes between the crafts were referred to the executive council for final adjustment.

CHARGED WITH PERJURY.

New York Detective Who Secured Evidence Against Canfield.

New York, Nov. 23.—Joseph Jacobs, a detective of District Attorney Jerome's staff, who secured the evidence against Richard A. Canfield, was arrested during the day by order of District Attorney Jerome on a charge of perjury. He was held in $2,000 bail and committed to the Tombs in default of bail. The arrest was based on a confession he made to Philip J. Britt and General Benjamin F. Tracy, who are associated as counsel for Canfield and his alleged manager, David Bucklin. Mr. Jerome says Jacobs asked them that as the price of his confession he be supplied with sufficient funds by Canfield to take him out of the jurisdiction of the courts. After being arraigned he made a fuller confession to Mr. Jerome. It is said by Mr. Jerome that Jacobs would never have been a witness against Bucklin and the indictment against Canfield has already been quashed.

FIREMAN BURNED TO DEATH.

Passenger Train Crashes Into an Extra Freight.

Hope, Ark., Nov. 23.—Passenger train No. 17, southbound from St. Louis, known as the Hot Springs special on the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railroad, ran into an extra freight train which was taking the siding at Swifton, a small town twenty miles south of here.

Harry Wells, fireman of No. 17, was burned to death and Engineer A. DeGuire of the same train was badly hurt, his arm being broken. Four passengers whose names are not obtainable were seriously injured. Fifteen other passengers were bruised and otherwise slightly injured.

The wreck was caused by the density of the smoke from the forest fires making it impossible to see twenty feet ahead.

ASK INCREASE IN PAY.

Miners at Chisholm, Minn., Lay Down Their Shovels.

Duluth, Nov. 23.—Miners in the employ of the Killorin-Philbin stripping operations at Chisholm, to the number of 125, last night lay down their shovels and refused to work unless they were granted an increase in pay from $1.75 to $2. They were denied the advance, whereupon they marched in a body to the stripping operations conducted by the Drake & Stratton company and endeavored to get the 130 men to walk out in sympathy. The Drake & Stratton men stated that they were perfectly satisfied with their present wage and declined to walk out. A riot seemed imminent and by means of clubs and other weapons the men were compelled to join the others. The officials of the two companies state that they would give the men an opportunity to come back to work immediately after Thanksgiving at the old wages, but that if they declined the operations would probably be shut down all winter.

Senate Committee on Elections Will So Recommend.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Despite appeals made by women's clubs, by the W. C. T. U. and religious bodies and church societies, it is the present intention of the senate committee on privileges and elections to recommend to the senate that Reed Smoot be allowed to retain his seat in the senate. It is not the plan of the committee to reopen the case when the senate convenes next month.

Some days ago Chairman Burrows notified the attorneys on both sides of this fact and informed them that if they desired that any more testimony should be submitted, it should be handed to the committee in the shape of depositions. This practically decides the matter.

Denver, Nov. 23.—A special officer of the supreme court was started out during the day with ten additional warrants for persons charged with violating the order of the court appointing special watchers on election day and according them the same privileges guaranteed to regular watchers and the election laws. Six arrests of local Democratic leaders were made, their names being William G. Groome of the city detective force, James Mullins, a clerk in the treasurer's office; James Harris, a district court dwarf; Patrick Reid, a county constable; William Bergman and Mart Vevany. They were all released under bonds of $1,000 each.

CATTLE BUTCHERS AT CHICAGO

STOCK YARDS VOTE TO STOP

WORK WHEN ORDERED.

MEN ALLEGUE DISCRIMINATION

AGREEMENT TO CEASE LABOR

REACHED BY A UNANIMOUS

BALLOT OF UNION.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Cattle butchers employed in the large plants at the stock yards held a mass meeting last night and decided to go on strike when called upon to do so by the officials of their union. The cattle butchers employed by the Hammond Packing company struck Monday because of alleged discrimination against union men. According to the officials of the union the same conditions prevail at the other plants and the meeting last night was called for the purpose of ascertaining the sentiment of the men should it be found necessary, in the opinion of the union leaders, to resort to a general walkout. Although the butchers in the recent strike at the stock yards surrendered unconditionally the vote to strike, if necessary, was unanimous.

SEVERAL UNDER ARREST.

Murder Charged Against Striking Union Molders.

Cincinnati, Nov. 23.—Charged with various degrees of lawlessness in connection with the strike of union molders of Cincinnati, Covington and Newport, Ky., that has been in progress for months, a half dozen men are under arrest and others are under surveillance, so that a dozen or more other arrests are expected at any time.

The most important warrant issued was for Joseph F. Valentine, president of the Iron Molders' union of North America, but as he is out of the city the service could not be held on him. The headquarters of the Iron Molders' union are in this city and it is claimed that President Valentine has been directing the strike that has been in progress in Cincinnati, Covington and Newport for several months. During that time there have been disturbances at different foundries and on the streets of the three cities. On Oct. 7 Samuel Weakley, a nonunion molder, was killed and Frank Brown, who accompanied Weakley, narrowly escaped from strikers who assaulted them. The past few days the situation became more threatening around the foundries and attempts were made Monday night to blow up one of them with dynamite, in this city and the other in Newport, Ky. No arrests have been made in Newport, although the situation is more threatening there than at any other locality. The arrest of father and son in this city, charged with dynamiting the Eureka foundry and other alleged confessions implicating others promise sensational developments.

While there is much excitement in the foundry districts there were no reports up to a late hour of disturbances. In addition to the strong guards that have been maintained for months at these places the police directed the strike that has been in progress in Cincinnati, Covington and Newport for several months. During that time there have been disturbances at different foundries and on the streets of the three cities. On Oct. 7 Samuel Weakley, a nonunion molder, was killed and Frank Brown, who accompanied Weakley, narrowly escaped from strikers who assaulted them. JOHN ALLEN DEAD.

Discoverer of Gold in Montana Dies at Helena.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 23.—John Allen, one of the men whose discovery of gold in what is now Montana City, turned the tide of prospectors in this country, is dead in Helena, where he had been under treatment since last September for cancer. Allen came to Butte, Mont., in 1864. He made his home in the vicinity of Marysville and discovered and named Pigeon Gulch.

TWO VESSELS MISSING.

Believed to Have Foundered in Recent Severe Storm.

St. Louis, Nov. 23.—After remaining in the air for forty-five minutes, only for a brief period of which it was propelled by its own power, the "Montana Meteor," the airship designed and constructed by Thomas Benbow of Columbus, Mont., was brought safely to the ground in an open field three miles southwest of the world's fair aerodrome.

The airship was navigated by the inventor, who stated to a representative of the Associated Press after the flight that he considered it very successful in the light of the accident that happened to his machinery. A leak in the gasoline tank allowed all the fluid to escape and rendered his motor useless shortly after he had started the flight.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—The Burlington road has announced a strong reduction in the passenger rates between Chicago and Minneapolis and St. Paul. It has placed on sale for the remainder of this week tickets at $6 and $7.50. Holders of the $6 tickets are entitled to ride in day coaches, while purchasers of the $7.50 tickets are entitled to purchase Pullman tickets.

It is feared that the steamer foundered in the severe gale which swept the south coast of this island on Saturday and Sunday.

OVERWHELMINGLY DEFEATED.

Federation of Labor Disposes of Socialist Resolutions.

San Francisco, Nov. 23.—Disputes occupied most of the time of the delegates to the American Federation of Labor in the day's session. There was a ripple of Monday's exciting proceedings when, upon the opening of the session, two resolutions, introduced by Delegate Victor Berger, leader of the socialists, were presented for consideration. One of these provides for abolition of the militia as it now exists in the United States and the substitution of the Swiss system. The convention overwhelmingly defeated the measure.

The second socialist resolution asked the Federation to go on record as being in favor of petitioning congress to pass a bill providing for an old age pension for workingmen. This measure was also defeated.

A great number of resolutions regarding trade jurisdiction were presented. In but a few instances were agreements reached.

The most bitter fight was waged over the differences between the boilermakers and the structural ironworkers. The matter was finally compromised. A score of other disputes between the crafts were referred to the executive council for final adjustment.

CHARGED WITH PERJURY.

New York Detective Who Secured Evidence Against Canfield.

New York, Nov. 23.—Joseph Jacobs, a detective of District Attorney Jerome's staff, who secured the evidence against Richard A. Canfield, was arrested during the day by order of District Attorney Jerome on a charge of perjury. He was held in $2,000 bail and committed to the Tombs in default of bail. The arrest was based on a confession he made to Philip J. Britt and General Benjamin F. Tracy, who are associated as counsel for Canfield and his alleged manager, David Bucklin. Mr. Jerome says Jacobs asked them that as the price of his confession he be supplied with sufficient funds by Canfield to take him out of the jurisdiction of the courts. After being arraigned he made a fuller confession to Mr. Jerome. It is said by Mr. Jerome that Jacobs would never have been a witness against Bucklin and the indictment against Canfield has already been quashed.

FIREMAN BURNED TO DEATH.

Passenger Train Crashes Into an Extra Freight.

Hoppe, Ark., Nov. 23.—Passenger train No. 17, southbound from St. Louis, known as the Hot Springs special on the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railroad, ran into an extra freight train which was taking the siding at Swifton, a small town twenty miles south of here.

Harry Wells, fireman of No. 17, was burned to death and Engineer A. DeGuire of the same train was badly hurt, his arm being broken. Four passengers whose names are not obtainable were seriously injured. Fifteen other passengers were bruised and otherwise slightly injured.

The wreck was caused by the density of the smoke from the forest fires making it impossible to see twenty feet ahead.

The Mental, Moral or Physical Wreck Has no Place in the Business World.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS

The man who hesitates, whose eye is dull, whose step is slow, whose mind is sluggish, whose hands tremble, is not the man whom an employer seeks. It is the bright man, the man with the clear eye and brain; the active man, full of energy, life and vigor, whose very manner and presence breeds success that is sought for and snapped up as soon as seen, and it seems almost pitiful that first class, victims of success of some sort, should exist, when it needs but a thorough course of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills to round them into the old-time feeling of physical, intellectual and manly vigor again.

Mr Fred Hoyt of No. 724 6th Ave.
New Brighton, Pa., says:

"I used to have a hand so steady I could write the Lord's prayer on a twenty-five cent piece—then as a result of overwork and overstrain my eyes gave out and my hands and nerves generally became trembly. I was restless and could not sleep. I certainly was in bad shape and lost my ability to write—could just scrawl. I heard of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and got some and they took hold immediately. I began to sleep—gain strength—my nerves grew steady and my eyesight improved greatly. Today I feel finely and can again write as well as ever, and that means a very steady nerve." 50¢ a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y. Portrait and signature of A. W. Indian Babies.

Indian mothers have a method of preventing needless crying of babies which, though it does not err on the side of gentleness, is efficacious. In infancy children are entirely under the control of their mothers or nurses, and therefore the Indian plan of stopping crying and preventing the formation of the habit is to cover the baby's mouth with the hand and at the same time to close its nostrils till it nearly suffocates. Then it is allowed to breathe freely again, but should it recover its breath only to indulge in another howl it will at once have to endure semisuffocation. This treatment is repeated till the child learns that "silence is golden" and ceases to use its vocal powers to the annoyance of its fond relatives.

CREWS GREEN; ENEMY WATCHFUL

Japanese Torpedo Boats Lying Off African Coast, It Is Believed—Weak Points of the Armada, Built at Enormous Cost, and Problems of the Long Voyage.

The Baltic fleet, which the Russian government has been working so hard upon ever since the beginning of the war and which started its long voyage by firing on British fishing boats in the North sea, has been delayed for months by the discovery of defects in the vessels, by the necessity of training the crews and by accidents which are always occurring on new and untried ships, says William E. Curtis, the special correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald at Washington. Naval experts consider it an exceedingly risky thing, merely from a mechanical standpoint alone, to start this great fleet on so long a cruise, because no harbor of refuge is open to it, and it has no place to go when it gets to the far east. By the middle of November Vladivostok, Russia's only harbor in the east, will be frozen up, and even if the fleet should reach there safely not a ship could enter before next May. It is too late to rescue Port Arthur. Under the most favorable circumstances, without accident or detention, it would take at least sixty days for the fleet to get there, and that would be nearly mid-winter.

Of the thirty-seven ships in the fleet more than half are entirely new. They have been constructed and fitted out in great haste, and many defects are to be expected. Furthermore, the crews are green and inexperienced. Most of the engineers and machinists are untried, and very few, if any, of the men on board have ever participated in a battle, although, as has been demonstrated in every emergency, the sailors and soldiers are both great fighters.

The Baltic fleet is composed of the following vessels:

COLLIERS.

Korea, Kital, Kniaz, Gorcha, Kov.

This is one of the largest fleets that ever went to sea and one of the most powerful. It is commanded by three rear admirals—Rojestvensky, Falkenberg and Enkoist—and an enormous amount of money has been expended in its construction, armament and equipment. The money value of the fleet is of itself very large. Some idea of its cost may be obtained from the following table:

Seven battleships, $6,500,000 each. $45,500,000

Two armored cruisers, $5,600,000

each 10,000,000

Six protected cruisers, averaging

$2,500,000 each 15,000,000

Twelve destroyers, $350,000 each. 3,600,000

Nine auxiliary cruisers, averaging

$1,000,000 each 9,000,000

Two repair ships, $500,000 each. 1,000,000

Three colliers, $500,000 each. 1,500,000

Hospital ship 750,000

Total $85,750,000

It will cost in the neighborhood of $600,000 for coal to send the Baltic fleet around to Port Arthur. Under the most favorable circumstances the seven battleships will need at least 30,000 tons, the cruisers 20,000 tons, the auxiliaries 40,000 tons, the repair and hospital ships 4,000 tons each, the twelve destroyers 500 tons each, or a total of from 105,000 to 110,000 tons, and it is a very serious problem to provide this fuel. It must be remembered that no coaling stations are open, and it is necessary for the fleet to carry its own supply. Every ship started out with full bunkers, which will be sufficient to take them to some point on the north African coast, where they can find plenty of secluded bays and inlets in which they can coal from the colliers. The second supply will carry them through the Red sea, and they will have to find some safe place down there to renew the supplies. Then they can go to Sumatra and there take enough to carry them to the Philippines, where they can find plenty of harbors that are safe from storm, but are scarcely safe from the Japanese fleet. From that time on it will be a matter of fighting.

The two colliers in the list can carry scarcely enough for one coaling, and refuelling will have to be sent at frequent intervals to overtake or meet the fleet. It will be necessary to have at least ten colliers for this service, for besides what the fleet itself can carry not less than 50,000 tons of coal will be needed, and the ordinary collier cannot carry more than 5,000 tons. Then when the fleet reaches the scene of trouble and did so much damage for a little while, are now not only hors du combat, but are frozen up in the harbor of Vladivostok.

A large number of Japanese torpedo boats and destroyers have disappeared, and nobody knows what has become of them. It is suspected that they may be lying off the coast of Africa somewhere waiting for the Russians to come down that way. It would be easy for the Japanese to follow the Russians with a mosquito fleet, not only for the purpose of watching their movements and keeping the authorities at Tokyo informed as to their whereabouts, but to fire an occasional torpedo or drop a floating mine in their course.

It is the popular opinion that Admiral Rojestvensky will send the winter cruiser about on tropical waters trying his ships, training his men and getting everything ready for a resumption of hostilities in the spring. But wherever he goes and whatever he does, it will be always necessary to look out for the enemy. Such deliberate cruising is considered absolutely necessary to put the fleet in shape for battle, because the ships would scarcely be in fighting trim if they were to make a quick voyage direct to the scene of hostilities. The Russians have no Oregon or men like Captain Clark and his crew, and after 15,000 or 18,000 miles of cruising all the vessels in the fleet will require a good deal of overhauling even if they are not compelled to fight their way through.

It is scarcely probable that the Japanese will let the Baltic fleet come very near the Yellow sea. It is doubtful if they allow the Russians to even enter the Pacific without a battle. They will know every movement. Every step of the Baltic fleet will be reported, and within a few weeks, when the cold weather sets in, most of the Japanese ships may be released from the blockade of Port Arthur and will be free to cruise southward in search of the enemy. The following is a list of vessels in the Japanese navy available for that purpose:

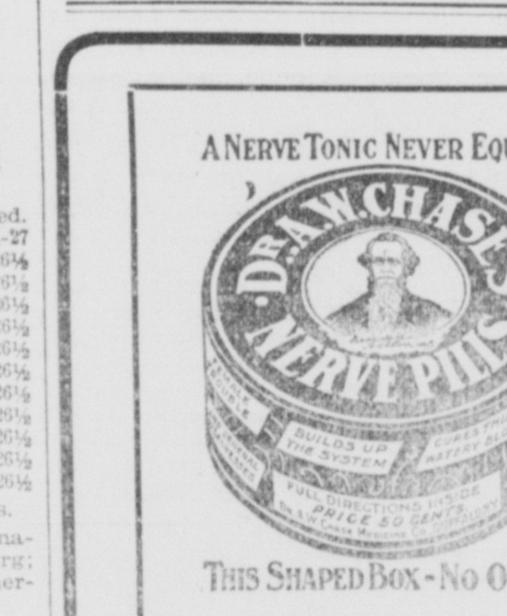

Battleships.—Mikasa, Asahi, Shikishima, Yashima, Fuji, Chin Yen.

Armored Cruisers.—Adsuma, Yukumo, Iwate, Idzumo, Tokiwa, Asama, Kasuga, Nisash.

Protected Cruisers.—Kasagi, Chitose, Itsukushima, Hashidate, Matsushima, Takasago, Naniwa, Takashio, Akitsushima, Idzumi, Akashi, Soma, Chiyo, Niitaka, Taishima.

Unprotected Cruisers.—Yayayama, Taka, Tenru, Katsumagi, Yamato, Musashi, Teukushi.

Torpedo Boat Destroyers.—Shirakumo, Asashio, Harusame, Murasame, Akitsuki, Kasumi, Iwachishi, Indusuma, Akemo, Suzanami, Oboro, Shionome, Murasumi, Yugiri, Shiranui, Kagero, Usugumo, Asagiri, Hayatori, Ryesheteln.

The Russian fleet at Port Arthur can give the ships of Admiral Rojestvensky no assistance. The Gromoboi and the Rossia, which made so much trouble and did so much damage for a little while, are now not only hors du combat, but are frozen up in the harbor of Vladivostok.

MINING LAND ON A TABLE.

Many Square Miles Reproduced as Centerpiece at a Dinner.

The east room of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York was decorated the other night to represent the principal features, topographical and industrial, of several hundred square miles of British Columbia mining country, says the New York Tribune. The occasion was a dinner to the officers and principal stockholders of a Boston and Montreal mining company, who recently returned from a visit to the company's properties.

A few days ago the managers of the company brought Manager Barre of the Waldorf a set of photographs of the country about Boundary falls. They said they wanted something new in the way of a centerpiece for the company's annual dinner. Oscar Tschirky, the chef of the hotel, put his artists at work, and the result was a faithful reproduction of the entire mining district. The mines, half hidden in forests of evergreens, were faithfully reproduced. The big smelters of the company, with piles of ore, were smoking in their relative positions, and the narrow gauge railroad by which the officers had reached the mines was reproduced. The ore was actually taken from the mines. The British flag and that of the Dominion were flying in various places, and no detail was too small to be faithfully worked out. The mining camp was reproduced even to the signs on the toy saloons and restaurants and the Northwest mounted policemen patrolling the streets. It was one of the most elaborate table decorations ever worked out at any hotel.

Smart Waistcoats For Men.

I notice a fashion among the ultra smart, well dressed men, who have their white waistcoats for evening dress cut very low, right to the bottom of the shirt front, and then fastened with two buttons, which are generally jeweled, the ends of the waistcoats coming in long points, says the London correspondent of the New York Herald. The rolled revers of the waistcoats are not ironed flat back, but form quite a turnover in the old fashioned style worn by Count d'Orsay. Of course the vest demands perfect cutting and perfect washing, and then the effect is extremely smart. There is a tendency, too, toward the use of two studs instead of one.

Dangers of Melancholy.

The weak, broken spirited person grows morbid and melancholy, and the brain degenerates rapidly under the influence of these mental states. Melancholia is something that comes more within the province of the will power than anything else. It can be cast off and avoided only in this way. Sometimes for the lack of stimulating the will physicians will recommend a change of occupation, scenery and association. This is merely an attempt to rescue the mind from introspection and give the will an opportunity to assert itself. Sometimes this is accomplished, and then, if followed up by cultivating the will, a permanent cure may be effected.—Exchange.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS

The man who hesitates, whose eye is dull, whose step is slow, whose mind is sluggish, whose hands tremble, is not the man whom an employer seeks. It is the bright man, the man with the clear eye and brain; the active man, full of energy, life and vigor, whose very manner and presence breeds success that is sought for and snapped up as soon as seen, and it seems almost pitiful that first class, victims of success of some sort, should exist, when it needs but a thorough course of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills to round them into the old-time feeling of physical, intellectual and many vigor again.

Mr. Fred Hoyt of No. 724 6th Ave.—New Brighton, Pa., says:

"I used to have a hand so steady I could write the Lord's prayer on a twenty-five cent piece—then as a result of overwork and overstrain my eyes gave out and my hands and nerves generally became trembly. I was restless and could not sleep. I certainly was in bad shape and lost my ability to write—could just scrawl. I heard of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and got some and they took hold immediately. I began to sleep—gain strength—my nerves grew steady—and my eyesight improved greatly. Today I feel finely and can again write as well as ever, and that means a very steady nerve." 50¢ a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y. Portrait and signature of A. W. INDIAN BABIES.

Indian mothers have a method of preventing needless crying of babies which, though it does not err on the side of gentleness, is efficacious. Infancy children are entirely under the control of their mothers or nurses, and therefore the Indian plan of stopping crying and preventing the formation of the habit is to cover the baby's mouth with the hand and at the same time to close its nostrils till it nearly suffocates. Then it is allowed to breathe freely again, but should it recover its breath only to indulge in another howl it will at once have to endure semisuffocation. This treatment is repeated till the child learns that "silence is golden" and ceases to use its vocal powers to the annoyance of its fond relatives.

INTERVALS TO OVERTAKE OR MEET THE FLEET. It will be necessary to have at least ten colliers for this service, for besides what the fleet itself can carry not less than 50,000 tons of coal will be needed, and the ordinary collier cannot carry more than 5,000 tons. Then when the fleet reaches the scene of war it must have plenty of fuel handy or it will be helpless.

A large number of Japanese torpedo boats and destroyers have disappeared, and nobody knows what has become of them. It is suspected that they may be lying off the coast of Africa somewhere waiting for the Russians to come down that way. It would be easy for the Japanese to follow the Russians with a mosquito fleet, not only for the purpose of watching their movements and keeping the authorities at Tokyo informed as to their whereabouts, but to fire an occasional torpedo or drop a floating mine in their course.

It is the popular opinion that Admiral Rojestvensky will spend the winter cruising about on tropical waters trying his ships, training his men and getting everything ready for a resumption of hostilities in the spring. But wherever he goes and whatever he does, it will be always necessary to look out for the enemy. Such deliberate cruising is considered absolutely necessary to put the fleet in shape for battle, because the ships would scarcely be in fighting trim if they were to make a quick voyage direct to the scene of hostilities. The Russians have no Oregons or men like Captain Clark and his crew, and after 15,000 or 18,000 miles of cruising all the vessels in the fleet will require a good deal of overhauling even if they are not compelled to fight their way through.

It is scarcely probable that the Japanese will let the Baltic fleet come very near the Yellow sea. It is doubtful if they allow the Russians to even enter the Pacific without a battle. They will know every movement. Every step of the Baltic fleet will be reported, and within a few weeks, when the cold weather sets in, most of the Japanese ships may be released from the blockade of Port Arthur and will be free to cruise southward in search of the enemy. The following is a list of vessels in the Japanese navy available for that purpose:

BATTLESHIPS—Mikasa, Asahi, Shikishima, Yashima, Fuji, Chin Yen.
ARMORED CRUISERS—Adzuma, Yukumo, Iwate, Idsumo, Tokiwa, Asama, Kasuga, Sasebo.
PROTECTED CRUISERS—Kasagi, Chitose, Itsukushima, Hashidate, Matsushima, Takasago, Naniwa, Takashio, Akitsushima, Idsumi, Akashi, Suma, Chiyoda, Nitaka, Tsushima.

AUXILIARY CRUISERS AND TRANSPORTS—Don, Ural, Terek, Kuban, Irtysh, Anadyr, Argun, Smolensk and Petersburg; seven auxiliaries armed. (Converted merchant ships of high speed.) Hospital ship Orel.

REPAIR SHIPS—Kamchatka, Ocean.

COLLIERS—Korea, Kitai, Kniaz, Gorcha, Kov.

This is one of the largest fleets that ever went to sea and one of the most powerful. It is commanded by three rear admirals—Rojestvensky, Falkenberg and Engels— and an enormous amount of money has been expended in its construction, armament and equipment. The money value of the fleet is of itself very large. Some idea of its cost may be obtained from the following table:

Seven battleships, $5,500,000 each.	$45,500,000
Two armored cruisers, $5,000,000 each.	10,000,000
Six protected cruisers, averaging $2,500,000 each.	15,000,000
Twelve destroyers, $250,000 each.	3,000,000
Nine auxiliary cruisers, averaging $1,000,000 each.	9,000,000
Two repair ships, $500,000 each.	1,000,000
Three colliers, $500,000 each.	1,500,000
Hospital ship, 750,000
Total	$85,750,000

It will cost in the neighborhood of $80,000 for coal to send the Baltic fleet around to Port Arthur. Under the most favorable circumstances the seven battleships will need at least 30,000 tons, the cruisers 20,000 tons, the auxiliaries 40,000 tons, the repair and hospital ships 4,000 tons each, the twelve destroyers 500 tons each, or a total of from 105,000 to 110,000 tons, and it is a very serious problem to provide this fuel. It must be remembered that no coaling stations are open, and it is necessary for the fleet to carry its own supply. Every ship started out with full bunkers, which will be sufficient to take them to some point on the north African coast, where they can find plenty of seaport bays and inlets in which they can coal from the colliers. The second supply will carry them through the Red sea, and they will have to find some safe place down there to renew the supplies. Then they can go to Sumatra and there take enough to carry them to the Philippines, where they can find plenty of harbors that are safe from storm, but are scarcely safe from the Japanese fleet. From that time on it will be a matter of fighting.

The two colliers in the list can carry scarcely enough for one coaling, and relays will have to be sent at frequent intervals to overtaking or meeting the fleet.

The Russian fleet at Port Arthur can give the ships of Admiral Rojestvensky no assistance. The Gromoboi and the Rossia, which made so much trouble and did so much damage for a little while, are now not only hors du combat, but are frozen up in the harbor of Vladivostok.

MINING LAND ON A TABLE.

Many Square Miles Reproduced as Centerpiece at a Dinner.

The east room of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York was decorated the other night to represent the principal features, topographical and industrial, of several hundred square miles of British Columbia mining country, says the New York Tribune. The occasion was a dinner to the officers and principal stockholders of a Boston and Montreal mining company, who recently returned from a visit to the company's properties.

A few days ago the managers of the company brought Manager Barre of the Waldorf a set of photographs of the country about Boundary falls. They said they wanted something new in the way of a centerpiece for the company's annual dinner. Oscar Tschirky, the chef of the hotel, put his artists at work, and the result was a faithful reproduction of the entire mining district. The mines, half hidden in forests of evergreens, were faithfully reproduced. The big smelters of the company, with piles of ore, were smoking in their relative positions, and the narrow gauge railroad by which the officers had reached the mines was reproduced. The ore was actually taken from the mines. The British flag and that of the Dominion were flying in various places, and no detail was too small to be faithfully worked out. The mining camp was reproduced even to the signs on the toy saloons and restaurants and the Northwest mounted policemen patrolling the streets. It was one of the most elaborate table decorations ever worked out at any hotel.

SMART WAISTCOATS FOR MEN.

I notice a fashion among the ultra smart, well dressed men, who have their white waistcoats for evening dress cut very low, right to the bottom of the shirt front, and then fastened with two buttons, which are generally jeweled, the ends of the waistcoats coming in long points, says the London correspondent of the New York Herald. The rolled reverses of the waistcoats are not ironed flat back, but form quite a turnover in the old fashioned style worn by Count d'Orsay. Of course the vest demands perfect cutting and perfect washing, and then the effect is extremely smart. There is a tendency, too, toward the use of two studs instead of one.

DANGERS OF MELANCHOLY.

The weak, broken spirited person grows morbid and melancholy, and the degenerates rapidly under the influence of these mental states.

Melancholy is something that comes more within the province of the will power than anything else.

It can be cast off and avoided only in this way.

Sometimes for the lack of stimulating the will physicians will recommend a change of occupation, scenery and association.

This is merely an attempt to rescue the mind from introspection and give the will an opportunity to assert itself.

Sometimes this is accomplished, and then, if followed up by cultivating the will, a permanent cure may be effected.—Exchange.

MISSOURI BUILDING BURNS.

Fire on the Exposition Grounds at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Nov. 21.—The loss from the fire in the Missouri building at the world's fair Saturday evening was not so great as at first supposed. A great deal of the furniture was saved, together with most of the paintings and practically all the books.

According to President M. T. Davis of the Missouri commission the loss sustained by the state will only amount to $20,000. This is explained by the statement of Mr. Davis that, after the world's fair is over, the building, which was the finest state structure on the grounds, would not bring more than $5,000.

BLAZE AT CINCINNATI.

Fire Does Great Damage in Central Part of City.

Cincinnati, Nov. 21.—Fire caused a loss during the day in the central part of the city, on the south side of Fourth, between Walnut and Main streets, and also on Main near Fourth, approximating $700,000. It started about noon in an abandoned building in the rear of the Poundsford Stationery company. There was a strong breeze that caused the flames to spread rapidly so that with the whole fire department at work it required several hours to get the conflagration under control and early in the afternoon a general conflagration was feared.

TRAGEDY IN A HACK.

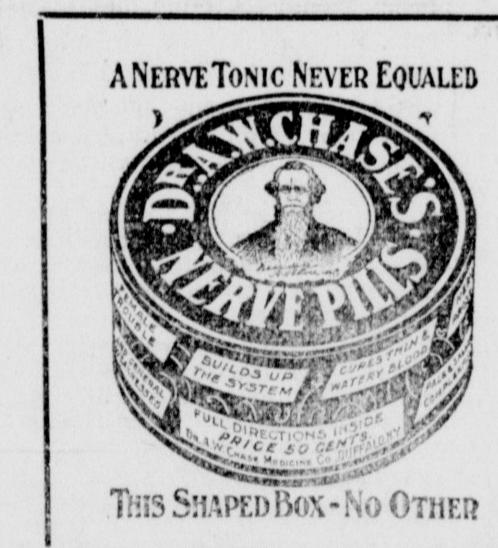

Georgia Man Kills Woman and Commits Suicide.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 21.—News has been received in this city of a double tragedy at Kennesaw, twenty-eight miles from Atlanta on the Western and Atlantic railroad, in which J. R. Butler of Augusta, an engineer on the Central of Georgia railroad, had shot and killed Mrs. Lola Green of Atlanta and mortally wounded himself. The tragedy occurred in a hack in which the couple were riding to the depot to take a train for Atlanta. The exact nature of the trouble which led up to the killing and suicide is unknown.

FINDING AN EXCUSE.

An irascible old colonel who used to play golf at Sandwich, which is on the river Stour, had a habit, common with many, of blaming everybody but himself for his bad strokes. Finally one day, becoming badly bunkered, he first took mighty vengeance on the turf with his club; then, glaring around in expectation of the usually friendly comments and nobody saying anything, he blurted out, "How can you expect a man to play decent golf on these cursed links with ships passing up and down the channel?"—London Mail.

The Ideal Nerve Tonic

The most successful means of feeding the brain and nerves is by the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. The discovery of this great medicine marked an era in the treatment of nervous diseases and rendered it possible to cure many forms of nervous exhaustion and prostration which were formerly incurable.

The old system of deadening the nerves with opiates and sedatives has given way to the rational method of feeding them and so restoring their waisted tissues and Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills is the ideal treatment for all diseases which arise from an impoverished and enfeebled condition of the blood and nerves.

In this class can be mentioned not only nervous prostration, nervous exhaustion, partial paraparesis and locomotor ataxia, but also a host of ailments such as nervous dyspepsia, nervous headache, sleeplessness, dizziness, and general bodily weakness, as well as the ailments peculiar to women.

Mr. Robert Dildine of No. 3 Ulster St., Waverly, N. Y., says:

"Sometime ago I got a box of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, and when I say they have done me good, I can back up this statement by an increase in weight from 128 to 144 pounds in thirty days. When I began to take the medicine I was all run down and it is a wonder I kept at work at all—could not sleep—appetite poor and when at work if I stooped over to pick up anything, I would be so dizzy that for a few moments I could hardly realize anything and frequently I had attacks of severe pain in the region of my heart. This condition had lasted for a long time and nothing I took ever gave more than temporary relief until I used Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. They proved to be the true Nerve Force builder and it is as a result of their use alone that I today feel as well and sound as ever—no trouble of any kind, but hearty, strong and vigorous in every way."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills

Were never known to fail, if properly used, in any type of nervous troubles brought on by worry, fret, mental or physical over strain or excess of any kind. This is due to the fact that they cure by going straight to the root of the trouble and nourishing the weakened nerve centers from which all nervous energy comes back into full life and vigor again. It is the ideal medicine for the weak and debilitated.

W. E. Curtis Tells of Dangers Besetting Russia's Squadron.

GREWS GREEN; ENEMY WATCHFUL

Japanese Torpedo Boats Lying off African Coast, It Is Believed—Weak Points of the Armada, Built at Enormous Cost, and Problems of the Long Voyage.

The Baltic fleet, which the Russian government has been working so hard upon ever since the beginning of the war and which started its long voyage by firing on British fishing boats in the North sea, has been delayed for months by the discovery of defects in the vessels, by the necessity of training the crews and by accidents which are always occurring on new and untried ships, says William E. Curtis, the special correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald at Washington. Naval experts consider it an exceedingly risky thing, merely from a mechanical standpoint alone, to start this great fleet on so long a cruise, because no harbor of refuge is open to it, and it has no place to go when it gets to the far east. By the middle of November Vladivostok, Russia's only harbor in the east, will be frozen up, and even if the fleet should reach there safely not a ship could enter before next May. It is too late to rescue Port Arthur. Under the most favorable circumstances, without accident or detention, it would take at least sixty days for the fleet to get there, and that would be nearly mid-winter.

Of the thirty-seven ships in the fleet more than half are entirely new. They have been constructed and fitted out in great haste, and many defects are to be expected. Furthermore, the crews are green and inexperienced. Most of the engineers and machinists are untried, and very few, if any, of the men on board have ever participated in a battle, although, as has been demonstrated in every emergency, the sailors and soldiers are both great fighters.

The Baltic fleet is composed of the following vessels:

Dangers of Melancholy.

The weak, broken spirited person grows morbid and melancholy, and the brain degenerates rapidly under the influence of these mental states.

Melancholy is something that comes more within the province of the will power than anything else.

It can be cast off and avoided only in this way. Sometimes for the lack of stimulating the will physicians will recommend a change of occupation, scenery and as society. This is merely an attempt to rescue the mind from introspection and give the will an opportunity to assert itself. Sometimes this is accom plished, and then, if followed up by cultivating the will, a permanent cure

C. D. JOHNSON FOR PRESIDENT

Was the Unanimous Choice of
City Council for this Position
the Coming Year

A. M. OPSAHLIS VICE PRESIDENT

Message of Mayor Con O'Brien is
Read and the Appointments
are Given Out.

President of Council—C. D. Johnson.
Vice President—A. M. Opsahl.
City Attorney—W. H. Mantor.
Chief of Police—E. H. Simmons.
City Clerk—F. E. Low.
City Engineer—H. M. Woolman.
Patrolmen—Henry Hurley, Mose Derocher, John McGivern and J. P. Barney.
Drivers of Hose Wagon—J. R. Mutch and James Buley.

The first meeting of the new council was held last night in chambers and the following members responded to the roll call and were given the oath of office: Halladay, Gardner, Peterson, Murphy, Opsahl, Armstrong, Baker, Farrar, Miller and Johnson.

City Attorney Fleming called the meeting to order and announced that the first matter of business would be the election of a temporary chairman. C. D. Johnson was placed in the chair on motion of Alderman F. A. Farrar. Mr. Johnson announced that the next in order would be nominations for the office of president of the council. Alderman A. M. Opsahl nominated C. D. Johnson and the rules were suspended and Mr. Johnson was made the unanimous choice of the body. Mr. Johnson is a good parliamentarian and will make a very able presiding officer.

The next in order was the election of a vice president. Alderman Gardner placed in nomination the name of Alderman Opsahl. There were no other nominations and Mr. Opsahl was the unanimous choice of the council.

The election of a city clerk was next in order and the application of F. E. Low was the only one read for this position. A vote by ballot was taken and Mr. Low was paid the very handsome compliment of receiving the ten votes.

The only office over which there was any contest at all was that of city attorney, but when this order of business was called for no one was placed in nomination and the chair ordered an informal ballot. This ballot disclosed the fact that there were four candidates in the field, namely: W. A. Fleming, A. T. Larson, W. H. Crowell and W. H. Mantor. The informal ballot stood: Mantor 3, Larson 4, Crowell 1 and Fleming 2.

On the first formal ballot Mantor received 4, Larson 4, Fleming 1 and Crowell 1. On the second ballot Mantor received 5, Larson 4 and Crowell 1. The third ballot told the tale, Mantor receiving 6 votes and Larson 4. The chair declared Mr. Mantor elected to the position.

For the office of city engineer the present city engineer, H. M. Woolman, was re-elected, receiving the ten votes.

For drivers of the fire team Alderman Halladay moved that the secretary be instructed to cast the unanimous vote of the council for the present incumbents, J. R. Mutch and James Buley. This was done.

A communication was then read from Mayor O'Brien making the following appointments: Chief of police, E. H. Simmons; patrolmen, Henry Hurley, Mose Derocher, John McGivern and J. P. Barney. The appointments were confirmed.

At this point Clerk Low handed to City Attorney Fleming the message of Mayor O'Brien to the city council. The same was accepted and placed on file. The message is as follows:

"To the Council of the City of Brainerd,

"Gentlemen:—Following the custom of my predecessors in office, I take this occasion to submit to you a few suggestions and recommendations for your future consideration and action.

"I am not unmindful of the fact that our city, like all other young and growing cities, has its wants and needs, some of which are indispensable and must be met and provided for, while others—largely fanciful and unnecessary—can be, I think, dispensed with or deferred to another and more propitious time. In my opinion, too much money has been spent by the city in the past for the gratification of a very doubtful sentiment. We must have streets and sidewalks, and they should be kept and maintained in a safe and proper condition; but is it not asking too much of those who are property owners in the out-laying portions of the city, to be compelled to pay for needless and expensive sidewalks? Consider for a moment what it means, not only to the property owner, but also to the city. Is it a good business proposition to draw on the general fund for the amount necessary to pay for such sidewalks as the owners of the property do not pay for themselves, and wait until the owners get ready to pay the same—possibly never? Would it not be far better, for a time at least, to get along with less expensive sidewalks in those districts?

The matter of approving the bond of City Treasurer R. G. Vallentyne was taken up and it will come up again at a future meeting.

There were no frills nor fusses, but the new council got right down to business and after transacting some routine business adjourned.

MONS MAHLUM IS PRESIDENT

The New Board of Education
Held its First Meeting and Elect Officers.

WAS A REGULAR LOVE FEAST

Harmony Prevailed and Speech Making was the Order of the Evening.

Harmony with a great big H was the key note of the first meeting of the new board of education held last evening. Judge Alderman administered the oath of office to the newly elected and re-elected members after which they were called to order by the retiring president, L. P. Johnson, who was appointed temporary chairman. The election of officers for the coming term resulted as follows:

President—Mons Mahlum.
Vice President—Thos. Halladay.
Secretary—J. R. Smith.
Treasurer—L. P. Johnson.

After the election of officers the newly elected members of the board were called on and made short speeches and were followed by nearly all of the members. J. C. Congdon gave some very interesting reminiscences of life on the board twenty years ago, and dwelt on the wonderful growth of the schools in that time.

Professors Hartley and Hanft were called on and made brief talks which were enjoyed. The latter presented a request from the basket ball team that they be allowed to put a floor in the unused room over the high school at their own expense and use the room for a practice hall. The matter was laid over to the coming regular meeting as there were no committees appointed as yet.

The bond of the treasurer was fixed at $20,000. President Mahlum announced that he would report his committee appointments next meeting.

STEIGER-MURPHY WEDDING

Very Pretty Wedding at St. Francis' Church
When Miss Helen Murphy Becomes

Bride of Mr. E. L. Steiger.

This mornidg at 9 o'clock a very pretty wedding took place at St. Francis Catholic church when Miss Helen Catherine Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murphy, became the bride of Mr. Ernest L. Steiger. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large circle of friends. High mass was celebrated by Rev. D. W. Lynch, assisted by Father LaMott, of Little Falls, and Father Wurm, of Aitkin.

The church was decorated with palms and pink and white carnations and was very pretty. Mrs. J. P. Early presided at the organ and she was assisted by a full choir. During the ceremony Mr. Joseph Murphy sang with pleasing effect, "O Promise Me."

In all things pertaining to the city, it seems to me quite essential that strict and rigid economy should be practiced. Indeed, in view of the present condition of the finance of the city, it is not absolutely necessary to see to it that some of the expenses be cut down? I hope and trust that this suggestion will not be forgotten, and will receive the earnest attention of the council.

I am not disposed to find fault with what has been done—it cannot be recalled, but I would most earnestly urge upon you the necessity of a change in the present method of spending the public funds of the city. Times and conditions demand it.

I believe that three policeman besides the chief can do the work of the police force, and I would recommend that the services of one of the patrolmen be dispensed with.

"As to the policy which I shall pursue, especially, in regard to certain well understood places, practices and privileges, I cannot, at present at least, see the need of any great change being made therein. It may be that later on some changes will be suggested. The moral condition of the city is not all that it should be, but how is it possible to enforce stricter rules than have been applied when public sentiment will not sustain them? I would be glad, for one, to see better and more healthy moral condition of things in our city, and I shall always be glad to listen to any suggestion from any source that will bring this about.

"Hoping that we shall have a good understanding with each other, and we shall pull together for the best interest of the city, and wishing the several officers of the city, one and all, a long and happy life, I am,
Respectfully,
Con. O'BRIEN,
Mayor."

HUBBY HE WENT HOME WITH WIFIE

Duplicity of O. M. Matteson and
Mrs. D. B. McDonald, of La Crosse, Wis., Shown.

WIFE OF MAN ARRIVES ON SCENE

And for Time There was a Threatened Disturbance—Some Queer Maneuvers

For a real genuine tinge of the romantic, dramatic and tragic, all done up in one package, the mixup in this city yesterday in which two families of La Crosse, Wis., are involved, has everything backed way off the boards, and yet if the whole bunch were to be put in a sack and shaken up, it would be hard to tell the one from the other, and decipher which is the bigger ass.

For several days a man by the name of O. M. Matteson has been stopping at a prominent hotel with a lady whom it is supposed was his wife. At least he registered "O. M. Matteson and wife." They have since coming to Brainerd been engaged in making hair chains and have been doing quite a stunt of business.

Day before yesterday a special envoy from La Crosse in the name of L. H. Shrelve arrived in the city and a series of inquiries propounded, succeeded in locating the twain at the hotel. It turned out that the man Matteson was not with his wife, but another man's, and her real name is Mrs. D. B. McDonald. It was also learned that Matteson had a wife and four children at La Crosse and the young man who came here to look the couple up was a brother of Matteson's real wife.

When he discovered the state of affairs he went to County Attorney Crowell and tried to get a warrant, but this was refused him as it was stated that the man's wife would have to get the warrant. Shrelve then wired Mrs. Matteson at La Crosse and told her to come to Brainerd at once.

She arrived yesterday afternoon and then the fun commenced. Mrs. Matteson No. 2 made her Paul Revere, and got out of sight, and Matteson got busy trying to smooth things over while Mrs. Matteson No. 1 patiently waited developments.

Accompanied by her brother and Chief Sargent the real Mrs. Matteson went to the hotel and confronted her husband and asked him where his "wife" was. He blandly admitted that she was up stairs. The husband and brother nearly came to blows and Matteson thought Shrelve had his gall to "buttin" and had the audacity to say that he thought he and his first love could fix matters up. To make a long story short they finally patched things up and like a poor foolish woman, the wife decided to take hubby back home with her. He was dead willing to go because he thought he would be arrested if he didn't. That was the only reason.

Then again there was a little curtain riser at the train last night as the three, Mr. and Mrs. Matteson and Mr. Shrelve, were leaving. After they were seated in the car Mrs. McDonald who had lived with Matteson for about two weeks as his wife bobbed up and waved him to come out on the platform. He came out like a cur and in the presence of his wife stood talking to the woman and making plans for the future. It was certainly blood curdling.

Mrs. McDonald is said to be still in the city, but she will probably leave tonight for La Crosse where it is understood there is another "bughouse" husband who is willing to take her back and forgive her. Mrs. McDonald is the mother of four children and Mr. Shrelve says bore a good reputation until this escapade occurred.

At this point Clerk Low handed to City Attorney Fleming the message of Mayor O'Brien to the city council. The same was accepted and placed on file. The message is as follows:

To the Council of the City of Brainerd,
Gentlemen:—Following the custom of my predecessors in office, I take this occasion to submit to you a few suggestions and recommendations for your future consideration and action.

I am not unmindful of the fact that our city, like all other young and growing cities, has its wants and needs, some of which are indispensable and must be met and provided for, while others—largely fanciful and unnecessary—can be, I think, dispensed with or deferred to another and more propitious time. In my opinion, too much money has been spent by the city in the past for the gratification of a very doubtful sentiment. We must have streets and sidewalks, and they should be kept and maintained in a safe and proper condition; but is it not asking too much of those who are property owners in the out-lying portions of the city, to be compelled to pay for needless and expensive sidewalks? Consider for a moment what it means, not only to the property owner, but also to the city. Is it a good business proposition to draw on the general fund for the amount necessary to pay for such sidewalks as the owners of the property do not pay for themselves, and wait until the owners get ready to pay the same—possibly never? Would it not be far better, for a time at least, to get along with less expensive sidewalks in those districts?

As to keeping the streets of the city in repair, it has always been my opinion that too much money has been, in years past, spent for this purpose. Until the last year, something like eight thousand dollars were annually charged up to the street and sidewalk account. Of this enormous amount, only a small part went to pay for sidewalk repairs. Probably six thousand dollars yearly may be charged to the streets alone. Without finding fault with anybody, I am forced to ask—especially in view of the many remarks made in regard to the same—is it not time to call a halt on this mode of conducting street repairs? Is it not asking too much of the tax payers? Besides, I would respectfully suggest that you first satisfy yourselves whether there is not a very grave legal objection to this method of repairing streets? Can the general fund be taken for this purpose?

In regard to paving more streets, I would also respectfully suggest that less speed would bring about more haste and better results in this matter. Would it not be better and more satisfactory to the tax payers of the city, if when paving of streets is contemplated, we proceed in a different way than has been followed? The law gives you the power to plan for, estimate the cost of, assess and collect the funds for such work in advance of the work being done. That is, you may, and I think should, get the money first before spending it. You would then save the general fund from depletion, and not have so many orders out drawing interest, and would what would never be paid by the owner for the sidewalk itself.

Again, it has been suggested many times, that our electric light plant should be so conducted as to bring some profit to the city. If I read the figures rightly, in no year since the city has owned this plant, has it paid running expenses and the interest on the bonds given for the same. And this, not to say anything about the further fact, that these same bonds are an indebtedness against the city and must be paid some time soon. If the plant cannot be managed so as to create a fund sufficient to meet these bonds, besides paying the running expenses of the same, it is a poor piece of property for the city to own and manage. Unless we can devise some plan for operating the plant profitably to the city, I would suggest and recommend that it be leased or otherwise disposed of. It is not only my opinion but the opinion of competent persons with whom I have talked, that the plant can be made to pay. Why not do it? I would suggest and recommend further, that the city dispose of all electric light fixtures, and do away with wiring buildings of any description, and further in regard to arc lights, the work on same should be done by contract, and said contract let to the lowest bidder, under supervision of the superintendent.

In all things pertaining to the city, it seems to me quite essential that strict and rigid economy should be practiced. Indeed, in view of the present condition of the finance of the city, it is not absolutely necessary to set to it that some of the expenses be cut down? I hope and trust that this suggestion will not be forgotten, and will receive the earnest attention of the council.

I am not disposed to find fault with what has been done—it cannot be recalled, but I would most earnestly urge upon you the necessity of a change in the present method of spending the public funds of the city. Times and conditions demand it.

After they were seated in the car Mrs. McDonald who had lived with Matteson for about two weeks as his wife bobbed up and waved him to come out on the platform. He came out like a cur and in the presence of his wife stood talking to the woman and making plans for the future. It was certainly blood curdling.

Mrs. McDonald is said to be still in the city, but she will probably leave to-night for La Crosse where it is understood there is another "bughouse" husband who is willing to take her back and forgive her. Mrs. McDonald is the mother of four children and Mr. Shreve says bore a good reputation until this escapade occurred.

Our line of hand bags include all the new and up-to-date novelties at reduced prices. H. P. Dunn & Co.

C. D. JOHNSON FOR PRESIDENT

Was the Unanimous Choice of
City Council for this Position
the Coming Year

A. M. OPSAHL VICE PRESIDENT

Message of Mayor Con O'Brien is
Read and the Appointments
are Given Out.

President of Council—C. D. Johnson.
Vice President—A. M. Opsahl.
City Attorney—W. H. Mantor.
Chief of Police—E. H. Simmons.
City Clerk—F. E. Low.
City Engineer—H. M. Woolman.
Patrolmen—Henry Hurley, Mose Derocher, John McGivern and J. P. Barney.
Drivers of Hose Wagon—J. R. Mutch and James Buley.

The first meeting of the new council was held last night in chambers and the following members responded to the roll call and were given the oath of office: Halladay, Gardner, Peterson, Murphy, Ochsner, Armstrong, Baker, Farrar, Miller and Johnson.

City Attorney Fleming called the meeting to order and announced that the first matter of business would be the election of a temporary chairman. C. D. Johnson was placed in the chair on motion of Alderman F. A. Farrar. Mr. Johnson announced that the next in order would be nominations for the office of president of the council. Alderman A. M. Opsahl nominated C. D. Johnson and the rules were suspended and Mr. Johnson was made the unanimous choice of the body. Mr. Johnson is a good parliamentarian and will make a very able presiding officer.

The next in order was the election of a vice president. Alderman Gardner placed in nomination the name of Alderman Opsahl. There were no other nominations and Mr. Opsahl was the unanimous choice of the council.

The election of a city clerk was next in order and the application of F. E. Low was the only one read for this position. A vote by ballot was taken and Mr. Low was paid the very handsome compliment of receiving the ten votes.

The only office over which there was any contest at all was that of city attorney, but when this order of business was called for no one was placed in nomination and the chair ordered an informal ballot. This ballot disclosed the fact that there were four candidates in the field, namely: W. A. Fleming, A. T. Larson, W. F. Crowell and W. H. Mantor. The informal ballot stood: Mantor 3, Larson 4, Crowell 1 and Fleming 2.

On the first formal ballot Mantor received 4, Larson 4, Fleming 1 and Crowell 1. On the second ballot Mantor received 5, Larson 4 and Crowell 1. The third ballot told the tale, Mantor receiving 6 votes and Larson 4. The chair declared Mr. Mantor elected to the position.

For the office of city engineer the present city engineer, H. M. Woolman, was re-elected, receiving the ten votes.

For drivers of the fire team Alderman Halladay moved that the secretary be instructed to cast the unanimous vote of the council for the present incumbents, J. R. Mutch and James Buley. This was done.

A communication was then read from Mayor O'Brien making the following appointments: Chief of police, E. H. Simmons; patrolmen, Henry Hurley, Mose Derocher, John McGivern and J. P. Barney. The appointments were confirmed.

At this point Clerk Low handed to City Attorney Fleming the message of Mayor O'Brien to the city council. The same was accepted and placed on file. The message is as follows:

"To the Council of the City of Brainerd,

"Gentlemen:—Following the custom of my predecessors in office, I take this occasion to submit to you a few suggestions and recommendations for your future consideration and action.

"I am not unmindful of the fact that our city, like all other young and growing cities, has its wants and needs, some of which are indispensable and must be met and provided for, while others—largely fanciful and unnecessary—can be, I think, dispensed with or deferred to another and more propitious time. In my opinion, too much money has been spent by the city in the past for the gratification of a very doubtful sentiment. We must have streets and sidewalks, and they should be kept and maintained in a safe and proper condition; but is it not asking too much of those who are property owners in the out-laying portions of the city, to be compelled to pay for needless and expensive sidewalks? Consider for a moment what it means, not only to the property owner, but also to the city. Is it a good business proposition to draw on the general fund for the amount necessary to pay for such sidewalks as the owners of the property do not pay for themselves, and wait until the owners get ready to pay the same—possibly never? Would it not be far better, for a time at least, to get along with less expensive sidewalks in those districts?

"As to keeping the streets of the city in repair, it has always been my opinion that too much money has been, in years past, spent for this purpose. Until the last year, some thing like eight thousand dollars were annually charged up to the street and sidewalk account. Of this enormous amount, only a small part went to pay for sidewalk repairs. Probably six thousand dollars yearly may be charged to the streets alone. Without finding fault with anybody, I am forced to ask—especially in view of the many remarks made in regard to the same—is it not time to call a halt on this mode of conducting street repairs? Is it not asking too much of the tax payers? Besides, I would respectfully suggest that you first satisfy yourselves whether there is not a very grave legal objection to this method of repairing streets? Can the general fund be taken for this purpose?

"In regard to paving more streets, I would also respectfully suggest that less speed would bring about more haste' and better results in this matter. Would it not be better and more satisfactory to the tax payers of the city, if when paving of streets is contemplated, we proceed in a different way than has been followed? The law gives you the power to plan, estimate the cost of, assess and collect the funds for such work in advance of the work being done. That is, you may, and I think should, get the money first before spending it. You would then save the general fund from depletion, and not have so many orders out drawing interest, and would what would never be paid by the owner for the sidewalk itself.

"Again, it has been suggested many times, that our electric light plant should be so conducted as to bring some profit to the city. If I read the figures rightly, in no year since the city has owned this plant, has it paid running expenses and the interest on the bonds given for the same. And this, not to say anything about the further fact, that these same bonds are an indebtedness against the city and must be paid some time soon. If the plant cannot be managed so as to create a fund sufficient to meet these bonds, besides paying the running expenses of the same, it is a poor piece of property for the city to own and manage. Unless we can devise some plan for operating the plant profitably to the city, I would suggest and recommend that the city dispose of all electric light fixtures, and do away with wiring buildings of any description, and further in regard to arc lights, the work on same should be done by contract, and said contract let to the lowest bidder, under supervision of the superintendent.

"In all things pertaining to the city, it seems to me quite essential that strict and rigid economy should be practiced. Indeed, in view of the present condition of the finance of the city, it is not absolutely necessary to see to it that some of the expenses be cut down? I hope and trust that this suggestion will not be forgotten, and will receive the earnest attention of the council.

"I am not disposed to find fault with what has been done—it cannot be recalled, but I would most earnestly urge upon you the necessity of a change in the present method of spending the public funds of the city. Times and conditions demand it.

"I believe that three policeman besides the chief can do the work of the police force, and I would recommend that the services of one of the patrolmen be dispensed with.

"As to the policy which I shall pursue, especially in regard to certain well understood places, practices and privileges, I cannot, at present at least, see the need of any great change being made therein. It may be that later on some changes will be suggested. The moral condition of the city is not all that it should be, but how is it possible to enforce stricter rules than have been applied when public sentiment will not sustain them? I would be glad, for one, to see better and more healthily moral condition of things in our city, and I shall always be glad to listen to any suggestion from any source that will bring this about.

"Hoping that we shall have a good understanding with each other, and we shall 'pull together' for the best interest of the city, and wishing the several officers of the city, one and all, a long and happy life, I am,
Respectfully,
CON. O'BRIEN,
Mayor."

Alderman Farrar moved that the city clerk be instructed to advertise for bids for the printing of the council proceedings.

The matter of approving the bond of City Treasurer R. G. Vallentyne was taken up but it will come up again at a future meeting.

There were no frills nor fusses, but the new council got right down to business and after transacting some routine business adjourned.

MONS MAHLUM IS PRESIDENT

The New Board of Education Held its First Meeting and Elect Officers.

WAS A REGULAR LOVE FEAST

Harmony Prevailed and Speech Making was the Order of the Evening.

Harmony with a great big H was the key note of the first meeting of the new board of education held last evening. Judge Alderman administered the oath of office to the newly elected and re-elected members after which they were called to order by the retiring president, L. P. Johnson, who was appointed temporary chairman. The election of officers for the coming term resulted as follows:

President—Mons Mahlum.
Vice President—Thos. Halladay.
Secretary—J. R. Smith.
Treasurer—L. P. Johnson.

After the election of officers the newly elected members of the board were called on and made short speeches and were followed by nearly all of the members. J. C. Congdon gave some very interesting reminiscences of life on the board twenty years ago, and dwelt on the wonderful growth of the schools in that time.

Professors Hartley and Hanft were called on and made brief talks which were enjoyed. The latter presented a request from the basket ball team that they be allowed to put a floor in the unused room over the high school at their own expense and use the room for a practice hall. The matter was laid over to the coming regular meeting as there were no committees appointed as yet.

The bond of the treasurer was fixed at $20,000. President Mahlum announced that he would report his committee appointments next meeting.

STEIGER-MURPHY WEDDING

Very Pretty Wedding at St. Francis' Church When Miss Helen Murphy Becomes Bride of Mr. E. L. Steiger.

This morning at 9 o'clock a very pretty wedding took place at St. Francis Catholic church where Miss Helen Catherine Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murphy, became the bride of Mr. Ernest L. Steiger. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large circle of friends. High mass was celebrated by Rev. D. W. Lynch, assisted by Father LaMott, of Little Falls, and Father Wurm, of Aitkin.

The church was decorated with palms and pink and white carnations and was very pretty. Mrs. J. P. Early presided at the organ and she was assisted by a full choir. During the ceremony Mr. Joseph Murphy sang with pleasing effect, "O Promise Me."

The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine lined with silk and trimmed with Irish crochet lace and shirtings. She wore a beautiful white hat trimmed with rose buds. She carried an immense bouquet of white chrysanthemums tied with white gauze ribbon.

The bridesmaid was Miss Lylian Koop and she was dressed in a gown made of figured net with pink rose buds, trimmed with pink petals. Her hat was trimmed with pink roses and she carried a bouquet of pink flowers tied with pink gauze ribbon.

The best man was Mr. Edward Murphy and the ushers were Mr. Will Koop and Mr. J. H. Murphy. The gentlemen wore the conventional black with white vests and gloves.

After the ceremony at the church there was a wedding breakfast at the house which was beautifully decorated with palms, smilax and some cut flowers. A large bouquet was situated in the center of the table and streamers were run from the four corners to the chandeliers. The Misses May and Bess Murphy and Maggie Coenen assisted at the tables.

The bride is a charming young lady and has scores of friends in the city. The groom too is very well known and popular, especially among the shop men.

The DISPATCH joins with a large circle of friends in extending congratulations.

HUBBY HE WENT HOME WITH WIFIE

Duplicity of O. M. Matteson and Mrs. D. B. McDonald, of La Crosse, Wis., Shown.

WIFE OF MAN ARRIVES ON SCENE

And for Time There was a Threatened Disturbance—Some Queer Maneuvers

For a real genuine tinge of the romantic, dramatic and tragic, all done up in one package, the mixup in this city yesterday in which two families of La Crosse, Wis., are involved, has everything backed way off the boards, and yet if the whole bunch were to be put in a sack and shaken up, it would be hard to tell the one from the other, and decipher which is the bigger ass.

For several days a man by the name of O. M. Matteson has been stopping at a prominent hotel with a lady whom it is supposed was his wife. At least he registered "O. M. Matteson and wife." They have since come to Brainerd been engaged in making hair chains and have been doing quite a stunt of business.

Day before yesterday a special envoy from La Crosse in the name of L. H. Shreve arrived in the city and a series of inquiries propounded, succeeded in locating the twain at the hotel. It turned out that the man Matteson was not with his wife, but another man's, and her real name is Mrs. D. B. McDonald. It was also learned that Matteson had a wife and four children at La Crosse and the young man who came here to look the couple up was a brother of Matteson's real wife.

When he discovered the state of affairs he went to County Attorney Crowell and tried to get a warrant, but this was refused him as it was stated that the man's wife would have to get the warrant. Shreve then wired Mrs. Matteson at La Crosse and told her to come to Brainerd at once.

She arrived yesterday afternoon and then the fun commenced. Mrs. Matteson No. 2 made her Paul Revere, and got out of sight, and Matteson got busy trying to smooth things over while Mrs. Matteson No. 1 patiently waited developments.

Accompanied by her brother and Chief Sargent the real Mrs. Matteson went to the hotel and confronted her husband and asked him where his "wife" was. He blandly admitted that she was up stairs. The husband and brother nearly came to blows, and Matteson thought Shreve had his gall to "butt in" and had the audacity to say that he thought he and his first love could fix matters up. To make a long story short they finally patched things up and like a poor foolish woman, the wife decided to take hubby back home with her. He was dead willing to go because he thought he would be arrested if he didn't. That was the only reason.

Then again there was a little curtain riser at the train last night as the three, Mr. and Mrs. Matteson and Mr. Shreve, were leaving. After they were seated in the car Mrs. McDonald who had lived with Matteson for about two weeks as his wife bobbed up and waved him to come out on the platform. He came out like a cur and in the presence of his wife stood talking to the woman and making plans for the future. It was certainly blood curdling.

Mrs. McDonald is said to be still in the city, but she will probably leave tonight for La Crosse where it is understood there is another "bughouse" husband who is willing to take her back and forgive her. Mrs. McDonald is the mother of four children and Mr. Shreve says bore a good reputation until this escapade occurred.
